COURSE DESCRIPTIONS IN CRIMINAL JUSTICE CRJU

510. CRIMINAL JUSTICE SYSTEMS (3 credit hours).

This course is designed to provide a foundation and overview of the criminal justice system and processes. It will focus on critical decisions with emphasis on contemporary issues, trends and controversies that pertain to policing, sentencing, and corrections.

Course Emphasis: This course will examine the meaning of crime and criminal behavior, and the administration of justice. Emphasis is on police and police operations, prosecuting attorneys, defense attorneys, and judges. The pre-trial processes, the Court, trial and post-trial processes, sentencing, corrections and juvenile justice issues will also be examined.

CRJU 511 C.J. ADMINISTRATION: THEORY, POLICY& PRACTICE (3 credit hours). An advanced course in justice administration designed to provide an overview of the problems faced by managers of justice-related agencies, including the principles of police, courts, and corrections

Course Emphasis: This is an advance course in justice administration designed to examine all the administrative problems and factors that span the entire criminal justice system, primarily police, court, and correctional agencies. This is a course that emphasizes, among other things, organizing (for technological innovation), staffing (personnel administration, the constitutional rights and responsibilities of employees) and budgeting (actually the broader area of financial administration).

CRJU 512. CRIMINOLOGY (3 credit hours). This course involves an advance study of the nature and score of delinquency and crime problems, surveys the available theoretical formulations concerning the causes of criminal behavior, and the policy implications for the Criminal Justice System. Students will also be exposed to the myths relating to crime and Criminal Justice. A special emphasis will be placed on the role of race, class, culture, and gender differences, as they relate to the Criminal Justice Systems response to crime in the community

CRJU 513. LEGAL& ETHICAL ISSUES IN CRIMINAL JUSTICE (3 credit hours). This course is designed to examine the basic legal, moral, and ethical issues in policing, prosecution, sentencing, and corrections. Students also will have the opportunity to examine the legal and ethical issues involved in criminal justice research.

Course Emphasis: This course aims to provide genuine understanding of course content, the development of key concepts and the ability of the students to think critically about the legal and ethical issues, problems, and concerns that face the criminal justice agencies-police, courts, corrections, and criminal justice researchers.

CRJU 520. ADVANCE CRIME SCENE INVESTIGATION (3 credit hours). The course will focus on the in-depth study of crime scene procedures including recognition, protection, documentation, and collection of physical evidence, scene documentation, scene search procedures, and reconstruction from evidence and scene patterns.

Course Emphasis: This is a didactic (Classroom lecture) and experiential (outdoors) course on the fundamental and advanced features of investigation, duties, and responsibilities of the detective, interviewing, interrogation, and information-gathering skills, crime scene analysis, collection, preservation, and testing of evidence, surveillance and undercover work, raid and sting operation, modus operandi, use of technology, types of evidence, and the science of criminalistics. Emphasis is placed on the interdisciplinary and forensic use of knowledge from the natural and social sciences, as applied to prevalent crimes such as homicide, burglary, arson, and sex offenses, but there is also some emphasis upon emerging forms of criminality such as computer crime and terrorism. There are a small number of lectures, and some instruction involves video, practical demonstrations, role-playing, laboratory experiments, and simulated crime scene analysis.

CRJU 521. ADVANCED INTERVIEWS AND INTERROGATION (3 credit hours). This course is designed to equip students with knowledge to expand their ability not only on how to extract accurate information from witnesses and victims, but also to discern the innocent from the guilty. This course will place emphasis on utilizing scientific methods, physical evidence and deductive reasoning to show how to accurately reconstruct a crime scene and determine the series of events surrounding the crime.

Course Emphasis: Emphasis will be on the classical and contemporary theories of definitions, correlates, and causes of crime, and the relationship of criminological theory to the Criminal Justice System policy. This course aims to further genuine understanding of the course content, the development of key concepts, and the ability to think critically about issues, problems, and concerns addressed by the theoretical explanation of crime and criminal behavior.

CRJU 523. CASE PREPARATION AND TESTIFYING (3 credit hours). This course is designed to develop a foundation in case preparation and courtroom testimony. Case preparation, court deposition, trial, rules, etc. will be reviewed.

Course Emphasis: This course will place emphasis on the functions of law enforcement officers as expert witness in court. Students will be presented with various sources of information and techniques in case preparation, demonstration of evidence, deposition, trial, guide to the law and the court and the challenges to the expert. Students will participate in hands on exercises designed to strengthen their knowledge and skills in case preparation and courtroom testimony.
